

Hello!

Before you go to your appointment today, I wanted to take a moment to urge you to consider the health and safety risks posed by abortion. Risk include infection, excessive bleeding, embolism, anesthesia complications, convulsions, hemorrhage, cervical injury, endotoxic shock and ripping or perforation of the uterus. Women who have abortions are also at a dramatically increased risk of mental health problems and suicide.

For more information on the risks of abortion, you can visit CrisisPregnancies.org--which is viewable on your SmartPhone. You can also learn more about abortion, abortion alternatives and even hear what your baby's heartbeat sounds like.

We suggest that you go across the street for a second opinion. The folks across the street have all the resources you need to make it through a difficult time, and everything is FREE.
